DETAILED ACTION

Applicants' amendment of 6 January 2010 is acknowledged. Claims 1, 46, 50, 91 and 92 have been amended and the amendment made of record. Claims 49, 80-83, 89 and 90 have been canceled. Claims 93-96 are newly submitted and entered into the record. In light of newly submitted claims, further election/restriction is required.

Election/Restrictions

Species Election #1

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species growth factors:

1. BMP-1,
2. BMP-3,
3. BMP-2,
4. OP-I
5. BMP-2A,
6. BMP-2B,
7. BMP-7
8. TGF- β

The species are independent or distinct because each growth factor has unique structural and functional characteristics. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, Claim 1 is generic.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

The searches would not be coextensive. A search for BMP-1, for example, would not turn up relevant literature on TGF- β .

Species Election #2

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species: antibodies directed against TNF- α :

- a. adalimumab
- b. CDP-571
- c. CDP-870

The species are independent or distinct because each antibody is a protein comprising a unique sequence and unique CDRs. In addition, these species are not obvious variants of each other based on the current record.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species, or a single grouping of patentably indistinct species, for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, Claim 1 is generic.

There is a search and/or examination burden for the patentably distinct species as set forth above because at least the following reason(s) apply:

The searches would not be coextensive. A search for adalimumab, which is a fully human monoclonal antibody, for example, would not turn up relevant literature on CDP571, which is a humanized monoclonal IgG4 antibody comprising grafted CDRs from rodent antibody onto a human antibody framework.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or a grouping of patentably indistinct species to be examined even though the requirement may be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

The election may be made with or without traverse. To preserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the election of species requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse. Traversal must be presented at the time of election in order to be considered timely. Failure to timely traverse the requirement will result in the loss of right to petition under 37 CFR 1.144. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which of these claims are readable on the elected species or grouping of patentably indistinct species.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species, or groupings of patentably indistinct species from which election is required, are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing them to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the species unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other species.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to SHULAMITH H. SHAFER whose telephone number is (571)272-3332. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, 8 AM to 5 PM.
